MEXICO.

DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE.

OVER NINETEEN HOURS SAVED.

Leave St. Louis 2.21 p. m.
Arrive City of Mexico, 10.50 a. m., third morning.

Mexico is a land that never fails to interest the artist, student, scientist, capitalist and investor, as well as the every-day tourist and pleasure seeker in quest of health and recreation.

The Iron Mountain Route is now the shortest and quickest line by many hours, between St. Louis and the City of Mexico. It runs over its own tracks to Texarkana, the Texas & Pacific Railroad to Longview, Tex., the International & Great Northern Railroad to Laredo and the National Railroad of Mexico to the City of Mexico. No more delightful trip can be made for a brief vacation at this season of the year. One may go twice, the distance east or west and search in vain for such a variety of scenery, such an absolute change of surroundings, such marked differences in the people, their habits and mode of living.

Also, leaving Union Station, St. Louis, at 8.20 p. m. on the Texas and Mexico Special on the Iron Mountain Route, you arrive at Little Rock, Ark., the next morning in time for breakfast. Here a superb dining car is attached to the train. Meals are served a la carte, the menu and all appointments being strictly first class. From Little Rock it is less than an hour's run to Hot Springs, Ark., where direct connection is made with the train of the Little Rock & Hot Springs Western Railroad for Hot Springs, the greatest and most popular all-year-round health and pleasure resort in the country. Liberal stop-over privileges are allowed those who desire to visit this great national sanitarium.

The train then continues on its journey through the rich fruit farms and cotton fields of Arkansas to Texarkana, and thence across the Lone Star State to Austin and San Antonio, which has a world-wide reputation as a resort for sufferers from bronchial and pulmonary troubles. It is situated in the center of the "health belt" of the Southwest, blessed with almost perpetual sunshine and an ocean-breeze atmosphere, which tends to make the surrounding country a second paradise for those afflicted with catarrh of the head, weakened lungs or similar ailments.

At Laredo, Tex., you cross the Rio Grande River and change flags, money also, if you wish to handle the current coin of the realm, but you do not have to change cars, as the same palatial Pullman in which you left St. Louis is still with you and will continue to be until your train rolls into the capital city of the sister Republic at 7.30 p. m., third evening.

The first trip through Mexico is a series of revelations to the average tourist. They begin at Nuevo Laredo and reach a climax when the train comes to the crest of the mountain which overlooks the beautiful Valley of Los Remedios, in the center of which nestle the clustered cities of the City of Mexico.

Brother Gardner's Spooky Remarks

His Talk on Ghosts, Signs and Sighs to Fellow Members of the Lickin Club Ends With a Warning.

THAT was a feeling in the air as the regular proceedings of the Lickin Club drew to a close that its president had something on his mind, and more than one member's face wore an anxious look as Brother Gardner slowly arose and said:

"I desial to express a few remarks on a sartin subject. It has come to my knowledge dat sartin members of dis club an' troubled wid seem' ghosts an' hearin' strange noises. I have bin told dat Shindig Watkins has received three distinct warnin's so far dis year, an' dat Kurnel Cabiff can't sleep o' nights from hearin' a death tick in de wall at de head of his bed. Also dat Givendad Jones an' all broke up by hearin' whispers at midnight, an' dat Elder Tools wakes up most every night an' sees a spook wid fiery eyes glarin' at him ober de foot of de bed. "I has further learned dat Brudder Standoff Jackson heard a clock strike thirteen times de odder night, an' he was so affected dat he couldn't go to work next day. He believed it was a sign of a sudden death in his family. I am told dat Brudder Sawed Off White saw de moon ober his right shoulder de odder night, an' he dun felt so poky ober it dat he had to soak his feet an' go to bed. I learn dat Brudder Waydown Bebee saw three white horses chus together on de street de odder day, an' he at once run fur home wid all his might to see if de baby wasn't dead of colic.

"Only last night I was informed dat Kurnel Kyann Johnson, second vice president of dis club, sot up all night because de family teakettle sounded a warnin' soon arter supper. It seems to me from what I have heard dootin' de last fo' weeks dat nine-tenths of de members of dis club an' mightly spectin' to see ghosts walkin' bout der bedrooms.

"I is now sixty years old, an' I reckon I has had as much experience wid ghosts an' sich as any of yo'. I will admit dat I used to believe in 'em, an' dat for many years I was troubled in my mind fur fear I would meet one in de dark an' be speerited away. Dar was a time when I would have bet my mawl agin a peck of beans dat ghosts was playin' baseball under my bed every night of de year. I lay dar an' heard warnin's an' death ticks an' whispers voices, an' I riz up in de mawnin' feelin' dat I was not long fur dis sinful world. I has bin sittin' up alone at night arter de old woman had gone to bed, an' I has felt de presence of ghosts till de cold shibbers chased deiveselves up my back an' made me gasp fur breath. On one occasion I met up wid a spook in de back yard an' got sich a scare dat it took three doctors to bring me to an' save my life. Fur a year arter dey did save it I couldn't be left alone in de house widout two candles burnin' an' three dogs to watch ober me.

"I went frew all I have said, my friends, an' a heap mo', an' den I sot down to figger. I figgered fur days an' days, an' I used up a heap of paper an' brain power, but I finally struck it at last. De result of my figgerin' was about as follows:

"Whenever yo' am six weeks behind on yo' house rent, yo' may expect to see a spook lookin' at yo' ober de foot-board of de bed. He's dar to inqur when yo' am gwine to settle up.

"If yo' has bin shootin' craps an' lost de $2 de old woman has saved up to buy a pair of shoes, yo'll hear ghostly footsteps all ober de cabin fur three nights runnin'. Yo'll also hear from de old woman several times a day fur a much longer time.

"If I had bin sorter walkin' around dootin' de day an' had disklivered a benecop which promised to pan out wid de fast dat night I should listen mighty hard when I got to bed. I heard a death tick in de wall I should take it to mean dat I'd better let dem twenty-two chickens alone, 'cause dey was a spring gun jess inside de doath of deir coop. If I didn't hear de doath tick I reckon I'd chance it, though I'd go powerful slow an' feel all around in de dark fur dat gun.

"If a white man comes along in de mawnin' an' off is yo' a dollar fur a day's work, an' yo' ask fur a dollar an' a half, an' conlinder, to set on de fence 'cause he won't give it, yo'll go to bed dat night to hear strange noises all around yo'. If yo' listen cinsly yo'll make out dat yo' am bein' told yo'd better resign from dis club befo' yo' git de grand bouce.

"If Samuel Shin, fur instance, should berry $2 of me, which he can't possibly do, as I has had some experience wid de Shin family, an' if he should fail to pay it back at de time agreed upon, he'd sartainly see ghosts dat night. Dey wouldn't be ghosts from de graveyard, but hein' ghosts—ghosts dat would seize him by de hoofs an' pull him outer bed an' gin him he worst kickin' he ever got. In fact, one of dem ghosts would probably look jess like me.

"My mind am firmly made up dat dis chind bizness am mostly de work of conscience. De pusson who sees a ghost has dun sunthin' mighty mean an' conscience am trublun' him. No member of dis club who keeps up his dues, pays his debts an' tries to lib a decent life need be afear'd of spooks nor feel anxious about signs. He'll go to bed to sleep as sound as a brick. Spooks won't dun have no use fur him.

"From dis time on I shall have an eye out fur Bruders Watkins, Jones, Cabiff an' Toots an' fur sich odder members of dis club as may take to seem' ghosts an' hearin' warnin's. I don't say dat seem' a ghost will be considered sufficient reason fur expulsion, but it will go a long ways toward makin' me feel sartin dat sich pussons don't reflect no particular credit on a club as a nashunal orginashun. I take notice dat Samuel Shin am anxious to riz up an' ask fur an explanation of what I said a moment ago—about de Shin family, an' so forth. He may save his breath. If he don't see no mo' ghosts till he gets $2 outer me, de rest of his nights will be passed in peace. Yo' all have heard what I have had to say, an' I hope dat each an' every one will profit by it. At de next meetin' I shall arrange to have bylaw No. 666 so amended as to read dat any member seem' a ghost or bein' whispers to by a spook shall stand accused de same as if he had busted his way inter a public museum an' stolen de sacred skull of Cicero or Columbus. Let us now go home."

Hard Wear.

"I should like to look at a stovepipe hat," said the man who was guided by his wife in his shopping tour.

"He thinks," explained the wife to the salesman, "that he will look grate in a stovepipe hat."

"We have quite a range of styles in them," said the salesman as he led to open the boxes.

"This one doesn't suit him at all, do you think?" asked the wife when the man had tried on the first.

"I think it is a nice lid," slangily declared the clerk.

"I suppose the high price is because of the skillet takes to make the hat," ventured the husband.

"Yes," answered the salesman, "and then, you see, this hat is not oven ordinary shape."

"I'll take it," announced the husband, "if you'll cash a draft for me."

"The boss wood fire me if I did," replied the clerk.

"Then that puts a damper on the whole scheme," asserted the wife, taking her husband by the arm and leading him away.—Judge.

Charlie's Bright Plan.

"And you told Charlie that he could call upon your father?"

"Yes, mamma."

"Well, he hasn't been to see him."

"I know he hasn't. You see, Charlie is so thoughtful. He doesn't want to spring it on papa too suddenly. He knows how nervous he is. So he thought it might be well for him to go as somebody else—disguised, you know, so that papa wouldn't recognize him.

And after papa had exhausted his—his rage on the dummy, then Charlie would come in as himself, and papa would be too weak to refuse him. It's a splendid plan, don't you think so?"

"Do I think so? Well, I think that when your father gets through with the dummy your friend Charlie will be too weak to ask him for anything."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He Has a Way.

"I suppose you have a way of telling rich people from bluffers?" he queried as he handed the porter of the sleeping car a dime.

"Most suttingly, sab—most suttingly."

"Is it a secret?"

"Not at all, sah. De real rich man allus hands me a dime arter I have looked out fur him fur a 500 mile trip, while de bluffer hands me from 25 to 50 cents. De rich have to save de difference or dey would fotch up in de porehouse, you know."—Chicago News.

FARM GARDEN

INJURIES TO SHADE TREES.

Dr. Stone of Massachusetts Discusses Shade Trees and Electricity.

Dr. George E. Stone of Massachusetts calls attention to the increasing interest in recent years in shade trees and roadside improvement and to the good results from the renewed interest in tree planting. He also points out the many adverse conditions with which shade trees have to contend and which "are likely to increase with the development of our cities and towns along present lines." Among these Dr. Stone has made a special study of injuries due to electricity. He says:

"The increase of electric railroads, electric lighting systems and telephone lines, which have their wires located usually adjacent to the tree belt, necessitate a large amount of disfiguration by pruning; and the close proximity of wires to trees too frequently causes a serious injury to them in other ways. A tree that has been severely pruned or disfigured by a mass of wires is scarcely better than none (Fig. 1).

A considerable amount of damage occurs to shade trees by wires, causing abrasions, destruction of limbs and leaders, burnings and necessitating much injudicious pruning.

The greatest amount of damage caused to trees by alternating and direct currents is by local burnings (Fig. 2). The higher the electro motive force (voltage) the more injury is likely to occur to trees.

There is practically little or no leakage from wires during dry weather. In wet weather, however, when a film of water is formed on the bark, more or less leakage is likely to occur, and if the insulation is insufficient and contact with the tree exists grounding takes place and burning, due to arcing, results.

No authentic cases have been observed by us where the alternating current employed for lighting service has killed trees, though there are authentic cases, extremely rare, where the direct current used in operating street railroads has killed large shade trees (Fig. 3). This has been accomplished by reversing the polarity, causing the positive current to traverse the rail and the return current the feed wire, which usually carries the positive.

The high resistance offered by trees and plants in general serves as a protection against death from electrical contact.

The physiological effect of the direct current on vegetable life differs from that of the alternating. The latter current acts more as a stimulus to the plant than the former.

There is evidence to support the idea that a current of not sufficient strength to cause burning may overstimulate the plant and cause a retardation of its activities which will subsequently result in death.

Earth discharges during thunderstorms are more common than are generally supposed, and they are known to disfigure and cause the death of trees (Fig. 3).

Buckwheat Crop.

The preliminary estimate of the bureau of statistics on the buckwheat crop is an average per acre of 163 bushels against an average yield of 177 bushels in 1903, 181 bushels in 1902 and a ten year average of 175 bushels. The average for quality is 91.5 per cent against 91.4 last year, 88.1 in 1902 and 93.3 in 1901.

AS ANARCHISTS

General Bell Classes the Element That Figured in the Colorado Labor Troubles.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 3.—"Military necessity recognizes no laws, either civil or social," says Adjutant General Sherman M. Bell, of this state, in his biennial report.

Referring to the use of the troops in the mining camps during the two years of Governor Peabody's administration the Adjutant General uses the following language:

"As military commander, the authority and dignity of the state were at all times upheld and asserted in seeking to ameliorate a condition of dynamite, murder and assassination, under the guise of labor, that was intolerable.

"Autocratic in name, political in its beliefs and speculative in its incorporated 'Franks,' the union, fire-eating Socialists and anarchists fanned by an un-American press, will some day cause the lawmakers to suppress and banish them beyond the state line, such action becoming a necessity by the lawmakers, and necessary for the protection and welfare of the individual who labors for wages."

Technical Defense Offered. "What reason does he give for not paying his wife alimony?"

"He says that marriage is a lottery and hence alimony is a gambling debt."—Collier's.

TO THE SAFE

In His Private Car Ashley Rushed to Save Papers, and Was Burned to Death.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 3.—George Ashley, general manager of the Oliver Construction company, of Knoxville, Tenn., was burned to death in his private car near Wickliffe, Ky., yesterday.

Ashley was in charge of the construction work for the Illinois Central railroad at Wickliffe. With his bookkeeper, Roy McClelland, he was living in the car, which caught fire in the morning. The smoke awakened the men. McClelland made his escape, but Ashley attempted to reach the safe to rescue some papers. His charred body was found beside the safe.

The body was shipped to Aiken, S. C., his home.

Are Patent

Medicines Frauds?

MANY DRUGGISTS ASKED THE ABOVE QUESTION.

Frank D. Hall says "NO."

When asked the above question Mr. Frank D. Hall contended that nothing that gave satisfactory results could be fraudulent. "Do you believe," says Mr. Hall, "that I could afford to sell you something you don't want or that will not give you satisfaction? My business depends on pleased customers—in fact any business does. Therefore I would take an enormous risk did I not fulfill every promise made my customers: I am very careful of what I guarantee, and when I do guarantee an article I must know it pretty well—what it contains and how it is made. I have in mind the Rexall line of remedies, particularly Rexall Muc-Tone, of which I am selling large quantities at this time of the year. Muc-Tone is one article that I can recommend over any counter, and know that ninety-eight per cent of its purchasers are going to be benefited and will return to my store pleased customers. Muc-Tone is a positive cure for internal scrofula or what is commonly called Catarrh. It is without a doubt the peer of all tonics for any one who is suffering from a run-down condition, can't work, feel constantly tired or suffering from the more plainly described symptoms of Catarrh—such as stopping of the nose, cold in the head or bad cough.

"It must be remembered that Catarrh is not confined to the nose and throat. It usually starts there but it leads more often to serious trouble, particularly the wasting of tissues, as in the case of little Miss Dillon, of Albany. Here is a letter from her father."

"My little girl had catarrh so badly that the disease had begun to eat into the cartilage of the nose. Snuffs and instruments failed to do more than give temporary relief. I saw the advertisements of Muc-Tone, but I could not believe that anything taken in the stomach could cure the sore membranes of the nose. However, I took advantage of your free trial offer and my girl began taking your remedy according to directions. I want to say right here that Muc-Tone is certainly the greatest medical discovery of the times, and to thank you for the liberal offer that first induced me to give it a trial. Muc-Tone has cured my daughter's catarrh completely. The discharge has stopped altogether and her breath is as sweet as can be. Again thanking you, Matt. Dillon, 24 N. Swan St., Albany, N. Y."

Mr. Hall is selling a large trial bottle of Muc-Tone for fifty cents on the famous Rexall guarantee of your money back if you are not satisfied. He promises that one bottle will put flesh on your bones and bring new vitality to your system.

A Message From Mars

Auditorium Tonight.

A play that has never had an unfavorable notice must certainly be a very remarkable one. Yet that is the claim put forward for "A Message from Mars," which the distinguished English comedian, Mr. Charles Hawtrey will introduce at the Auditorium tonight. Certainly no comedy of recent years has had such a record of successful runs. It was acted all one among the sure to make a record. Don't miss it.

MISS BOB WHITE.

Miss Mary Phelps, the beautiful and talented prima donna with Nixon & Zimmerman Opera company's play, Miss Bob White, in Willard Spenser's opera of the same name, was in Paris season at the Garrick theatre, New York, and this is the only occasion in the history of the theatre in America, that a foreign star had been able to present a single play in the metropolis throughout an entire season. Since then it has been twice revived for long runs in New York. The fun of the comedy is said to appear with equal force to audiences in every part of the theatre. A large audience is assured.

PECK'S BAD BOY.

Every youngster in town was as tickled as he could be when he saw the bills go up announcing the coming of Peck's Bad Boy to the Auditorium, matinee and night, on Saturday, Feb. 4. The older ones were pleased as well, for the familiar farce comedy is a favorite with both old and young. The promise of "everything new" adds not a little to the pleasure of anticipation. Novel spectacles and sketches, together with the most popular songs of the season presented by a great company of comedians and last summer spending her vacation and incidentally receiving vocal instructions from one of the best masters. It is a fact known that the young ladies of Europe always travel with a chaperon, but the young ladies of this country with their usual independence don't think of such a thing in broad daylight. Miss Phelps, when she was on the "Cheapside" was walking she was accosted by one of the French dandies who promenade that thoroughfare. Taking advantage of the fact that she was alone he deliberately walked alongside of her and raising his hat, said something. She paid no attention to him at first, but he was so persistent in his attentions that he kept walking along by her side with his hat in his hand, chatting away as if he had known her for years. Unable to stand his insulting conduct any longer, Miss Phelps stopped, and opened her purse, dropped two francs in his hat, bowed and walked on. Several people who had watched the affair burst out laughing as the amazed Frenchman saw that she had taken him purposely for a beggar, grew excited, threw the two franc pieces in the gutter, jammed his hat on his head, and rushed off, muttering in French much to the amusement of Miss Phelps and the bystanders. At the Auditorium, February 7.

OUT OF THE FOLD.

Langdon McCormick's play, "Out of the Fold," will be seen at the Auditorium soon.

THE WAYWARD SON.

The greatest scenic, electrical and mechanical novelty now before the public is that of the rescue of Tom Hanford, the hero, by Martha Barnard, the young secret service agent in "The Wayward Son." A full sized locomotive, running at top speed being, but one among the principal features in this thrilling and sensational scene, with a large cast of clever actors, and coming direct from its whirlwind success at the Grand Opera House, New York City. "The Wayward Son" will be presented at the Auditorium early this month.

THE TENDERFOOT.

Among the members of the company presenting the big new musical comedy, in which Richard Carle will appear at the Auditorium early this month, is one who has never missed a performance during the 70 or 80 odd weeks of the continuous life of this now well known production; who has never uttered a protest, who has never faltered at any of the orders of an over particular stage manager and who has never complained in any manner, shape or form at any regulation. He has never missed a one or an entrance, has never made a stage wait, and although by nature being a kicker, has never demanded his name in large type. His name is Rupert, and his first entrance and likewise his exit, gives rise to one of the heartiest laughs during the performance. His comedy is entirely natural and he is much beloved by every member of the company. Don't forget Rupert when you see "The Tenderfoot." Rupert is a donkey: not a two-legged one, but a real four-legged product of a Texas ranch.

ANOTHER FACTORY

Larger Than Any Now in Use is Proposed by the Utica Window Company.

(Utica Herald.)

Arrangements have now reached a point where plans of the Glass company can be announced more fully. Instead of enlarging their present 24-blower factory, they propose, if the land can be procured at fair rates, to build another factory, of 30 blower capacity, on the three acre tract just north of their present plant. While the three acres would be small for another company, it would be sufficient for this one for the reason that no additional railroad siding would be required. The existing track would answer for both plants, and a little of the five acre lot now owned by the company would be available.

The company's present contract for gas gives them an option on any amount up to one million feet per day at the stated price. The present plant uses about two-thirds of that amount. The proposed new plant would require much more than the remainder of the option, and the company would like a low price made upon the surplus. It would also like to have the citizens of Utica purchase the land and donate it to them.

The proposed new factory would employ at least 150 men, most of them men with families. It would pay out about $15,000 per month in wages, besides big annual dividends to the workmen stockholders.

The benefit the new plant would bring to the town can be appreciated better by the business men now than a year and a half ago when the first factory was projected, and we hope that every reasonable encouragement will be extended to the project.

President McKim and Secretary, Manager of the Glass company, who submitted their proposition to the directors of the Utica Gas company at a called meeting Tuesday night, and the matter of the price is being considered, and the gentlemen will meet again next Tuesday night to further negotiate.

COLLEGE BOYS

REMEMBERED ANNIVERSARY OF DR. HUNT'S BIRTH.

Thursday Was Also the Anniversary of Deacon Shepardson's Birth. College Notes.

Granville, O., Feb. 3.—On Thursday morning as Dr. E. W. Hunt, president of Denison University, came up the stairs and walked to his accustomed chair on the rostrum in the chapel, he was greeted with three hearty cheers by the students. Dr. Hunt did not pause long in wonder after the lads began to count, for they counted from 1 to 42 and then the Doctor suggested that they count one more. It was his forty-third birthday, and the students were merely helping him to celebrate the event. The Doctor was not displeased but seemed to appreciate the affectionate demonstrations of his boys. In the evening a number of Dr. Hunt's friends, chiefly from among the faculty, surprised him most delightfully at his home on College Hill, and an evening of rare social pleasure was participated in.

Thursday was the eightieth anniversary of the birth of Deacon Shepardson, one of the most esteemed and faithful trustees of the university, and a number of the members of the faculty together with a few other friends prepared a little surprise party for him at his home on Plum street, which was heartily enjoyed by the recipient of the honor. Dr. Hunt presented the Deacon with a beautiful Morris chair, which his friends presented him as a testimonial of their friendship and respect and which he will treasure as commemorative of the eightieth anniversary of his birth.

The Washington banquet, annually given by the Seniors, can boast of one entirely new feature this year, being the first important social function given in the new gymnasium. The ladies of the Centennial Association will have entire charge of the catering, receipts and expenditures, and it is earnestly hoped that every one in town, who is visited by the collectors in behalf of this cause, will respond generously and cheerfully.

The last lecture of the course given under the auspices of the Ladies Centennial Association, will occur on Tuesday evening, February 14, when the Rev. D. J. Stafford of Washington City, will deliver his lecture on "Hamlet." Rev. Mr. Stafford is undoubtedly one of the most eloquent orators of the day, and the largest audiences rooms in Washington and Baltimore, where he has been stationed, have often proved too small to seat the audiences which have crowded to hear him. The lecture on "Hamlet," which he is to deliver in Granville, is recommended as one of his very best, and it is expected that the Opera House will be filled to its utmost capacity. A large number of people from Newark will attend the entertainment and it is quite probable that a special car will be run for their benefit.

The Cup of Cold Water circle of King's Daughters met on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Abbie Geach. The special feature of the evening was a most interesting and helpful talk by Miss Miriam Williams of Newark. After the usual business a social time was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. William Ashley and Mrs. S. E. Morrow attended the Sorosis banquet at the home of Mrs. G. E. Howell on 11th avenue, Newark, on Thursday evening.

COSHOCOTON NOTES

TOWN IS TO HAVE NEW OVERALL FACTORY SOON.

And There is Prospect of Securing Another Glass Factory—Earl Frazee is Under Arrest.

Coshocoton, O., Feb. 3.—Messrs. Hack and Wisenbaur have completed arrangements for the establishment of their new overall factory, and expect to have the plant in full operation within 30 days. The machinery has been ordered and will soon be installed on the third floor of the Frank Day building, corner Main and Fifth streets.

At the start fully 25 hands will be engaged, most of them girls. Ten new modern machines, ball-bearing and the acme of mechanical art, have been purchased, and with these already on hand, will make a list of 100. The plant will start with splendid prospects, and the firm confidently expects within a year to have 60 machines working.

Glass Plant in Sight. Mr. Bristow, a capitalist of New York City, was prospecting in Coshocoton this week, with a view of locating a $500,000 glass plant here.

He recognizes the good work that the board of trade is doing for the city, and asked for particulars about progressive Coshocoton. He was very favorably impressed with the conditions he found here. He expects to build a factory that will employ from 25 to 30 people. The plant will turn out pressed glass goods. He states that the money is coming from a New York bank, to build a plant just as soon as a suitable location is found.

For Abandoning Family. Earl Frazee was arrested in Columbus, Ohio, and brought to Coshocoton, and is now in the county jail. Frazee was found by his wife and children who had been living in Columbus.

Crowded Work. The Coshocoton Glass Works, which is now in the process of being built, is expected to be completed by the end of the month. The work is now being done at a rapid pace.

MT. VERNON DOINGS

Knights Templar Reunion Was a Brilliant Affair—Newark Personal Items—Football Captain.

Mt. Vernon, O., Feb. 3.—One of the most brilliant social affairs of the season was the annual reunion of the Knights Templar in their Masonic temple Wednesday night. The hall was elaborately decorated with American flags, and in the dining room the chandeliers were entwined with smilax and flags.

Marsh's orchestra of Newark, furnished the music, and during the banquet played a charming musical program, and later played for the dancers. ## BUILDING PERMITS

NEARLY 400 ISSUED HERE IN THE PAST YEAR.

Two Contractors Expect to Build 50 Houses Soon—Prospects for 1935 Are Bright.

During the calendar year of 1934 there were 381 building permits issued averaging $2,500, which would indicate nearly a million dollars invested for building purposes.

Inspector J. W. Sasser has a number of builders who have not taken out permits and these delinquents will be properly certified to the city auditor, and permits for said buildings will be issued and the amounts collected.

Two well-known builders have indicated to Auditor Maura that they expect to erect 40 houses in the near future for which permits will be taken.

The amount charged for a building permit is $1.50 for any erection involving the expenditure of $100 or more the amount of $176.25 being turned in to the city treasury from this source during 1934.

The fiscal year of the city begins on the first day of April, and the records are kept in accordance. During January of 1935, five permits were issued, and one so far in February.

CATARRH

Cannot be cured by Sprays or other Local Applications.

Catarrh is not, as is generally believed, a local disease, but is due to serious causes deep-seated in the blood. Blood Taint and Lowered Vitality are the conditions which give rise to Catarrh and sprays, washes, smoking preparations or other local remedies cannot do more than temporarily relieve the symptoms and can never reach and cure the disease itself. Many doctors direct their efforts to relieving the mere symptoms of Catarrh, treating it as a strictly local disease and totally losing sight of the real causes that underlie the outward signs of this malady. Catarrh, if not promptly arrested and cured, may cause consumption or lead to very serious diseases of the digestive organs.

Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) cures Catarrh quickly, thoroughly and permanently. Its curative properties act directly on the blood, driving out the poison, purifying and strengthening the whole system. It relieves immediately the disgusting symptoms of Catarrh, such as hawking, spitting, nose bleeding, ringing in the ears, the dropping of catarrhal matter into the throat, sick stomach, etc. It absolutely and permanently cures all forms of Catarrh—Catarrh of the Nose, Ear, Throat, Eyes, Lungs, Stomach, Liver or Kidneys. If you have any of the symptoms of Catarrh, don't waste time and money on worthless local remedies but get B. B. B.—the medicine that is guaranteed to cure.
